The screenshot shows the SteelExtras website interface. At the top, there is a navigation bar with the logo 'steelextras' and the tagline 'Your slowmoving offers'. To the right of the logo are links for 'Your ads', 'Log out', and 'Language: EN | IT | FR | DE'. Below the logo are three main categories: 'STAINLESS STEEL', 'CARBON STEEL', and 'OTHER METALS', each with a corresponding icon. A dark blue banner below these categories reads 'Subscriptions'. The main content area displays a grid of subscription options for each category. The first option for Stainless Steel, 'Basic subscription (3 months) 40.00€', is circled in red. Other options include 'Professional subscription (3 months) 80.00€', 'Professional subscription (12 months) 180.00€', and 'Unlimited subscription (12 months) 200.00€'. Similar options are shown for Carbon Steel and Other Metals. At the bottom of the page, there is a section for 'Metal raw materials' with various product categories like 'Angle brackets', 'Flat bars', etc. The footer contains the SteelExtras logo, copyright information for 2013, and a 'made in project' logo.

After choosing the type of subscription, you can move on to ad placement, which may be carried out in two modes, the first user, and the second automatically through a file in excel format
